Introduction

A Tunisian healthy food brand positioned at the intersection of fitness lifestyle, health-conscious consumption, and on-the-go snacking.

HERO PRODUCT

Power Cups

Protein-rich chocolate cups made from nuts and dark chocolate, a guilt-free alternative to traditional snacks.

"How can I snack without compromising my goals?"

BRAND PILLARS

01

No Added Sugar or Oils

Clean label promise — every ingredient earns its place.

02

Plant-Based Protein Sources

Real nuts, real nutrients, real fuel for real people.

03

Convenience + Indulgence

Snacking that feels good and tastes even better.

WHO WE'RE TALKING TO

A guilt-free indulgence that fits your lifestyle"

PRIMARY TARGET

- Young adults 18–30
- Gym-goers & fitness beginners
- Urban, social-media active
- People who feel guilty when they snack

Target: people who feel guilty when they snack

SECONDARY TARGET

- People trying to eat healthier (not athletes)
- Students & young professionals

The brand lives between

Fitness discipline ←→ Everyday cravings

THE COMPETITIVE LANDSCAPE

WHO WE COMPETE WITH DIGITALLY

Traditional Snacks

Chips & sweets — impulse buys, zero nutrition story.

Imported Wellness Brands

Stronger perceived trust, wider product ranges.

Local 'Copycat' Brands

Same category, lower pricing, low quality signal.

Fitness Lifestyle Content

Competing for the same scroll time and attention.

KEY THREATS

Low barriers to entry → risk of imitation

Imported brands carry stronger perceived trust

Only 16% of Tunisians buy premium healthy foods regularly

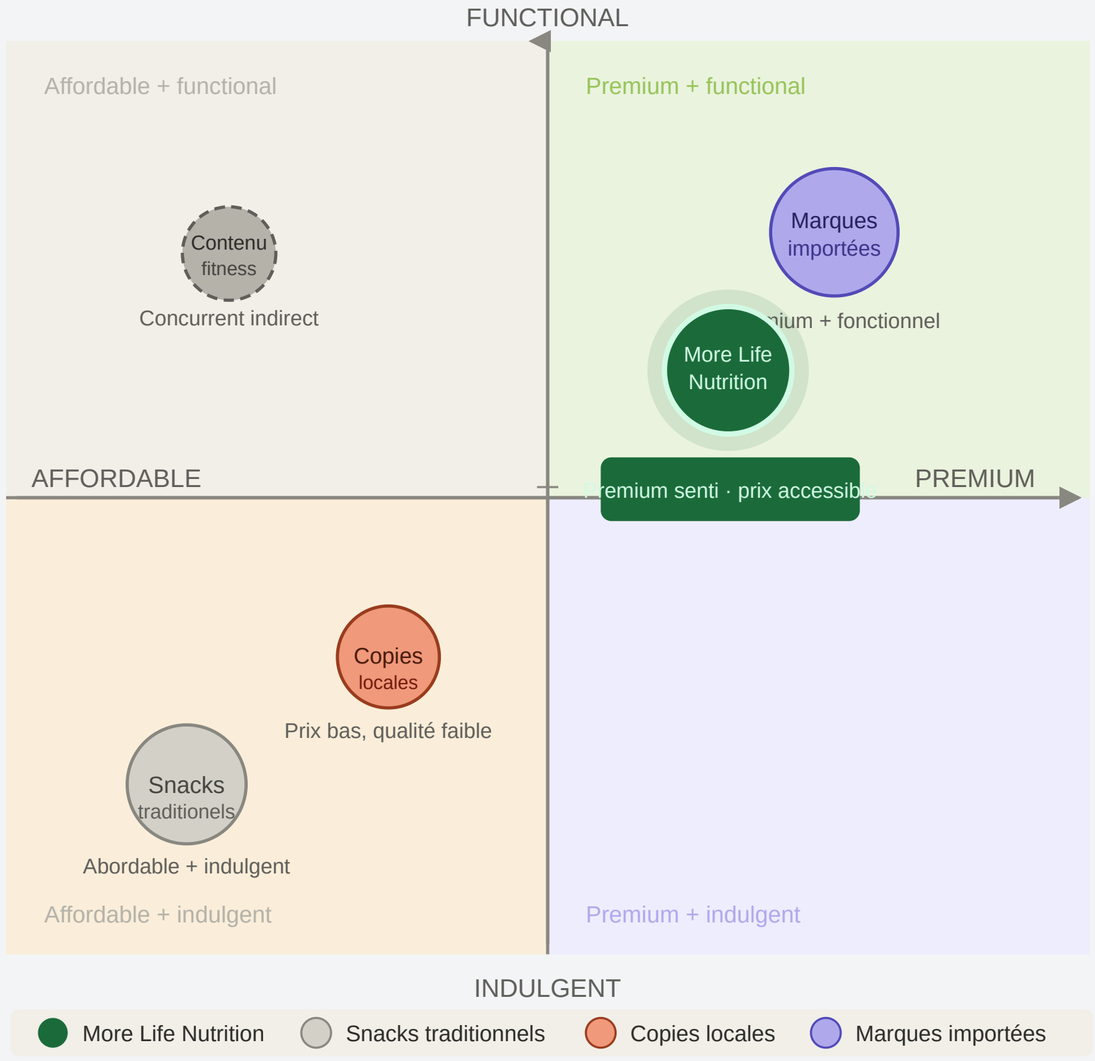

Over 40% of online shoppers spend <50 TND/month

MORE LIFE'S EDGE

Local advantage · Cultural understanding · Lower cost base · High visual marketing potential

WHERE MORE LIFE SITS

Core positioning: Premium feel, accessible price - the brand that makes healthy choices feel easy, not elitist.

SEO STRATEGY

Long-Tail Keyword Approach

CHANGE

Focus on specific, real user search intent in Tunisia

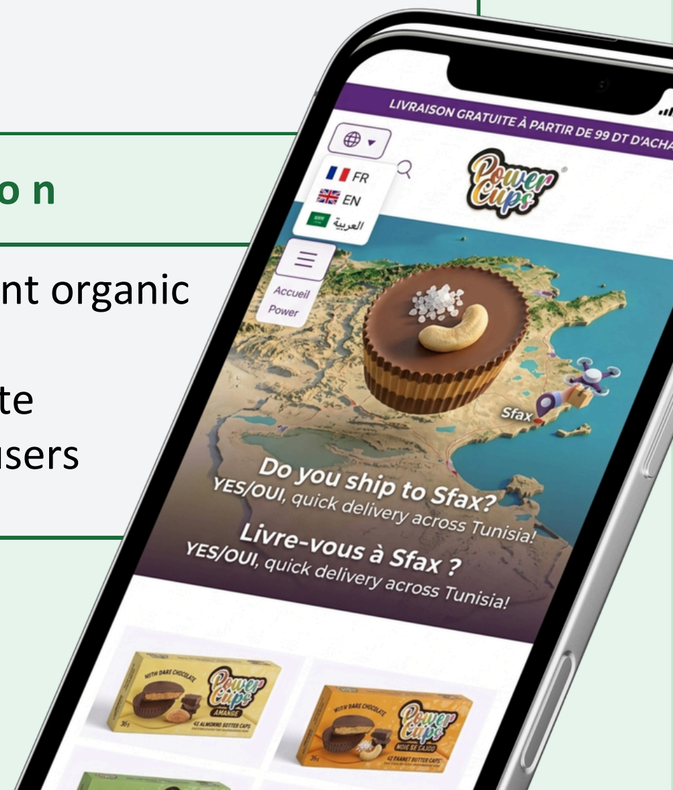

- “Healthy snacks for kids Tunisia”
- “Sugar-free energy bars Tunis”
- “Protein snacks Tunisia price”
- “Healthy dessert alternatives Tunisia”

OBJECTIVES

Capture underserved search demand in Tunisia
Replace “thin content” with high-value, intent-driven pages

RACE Contribution

REACH → Attract relevant organic traffic
ACT → Deliver immediate informational value to users

E-E-A-T & YMYL

As a health brand, include "Expert-backed" badges and a "Specialist's Note" on each product page to build trust with users and Google.

The 300-Word Rule

Every product page must have at least 300 words of unique copy describing texture, brand lore, and benefits to avoid "thin content" penalties.

Topical Authority

Create a Pillar Page (e.g., "The Ultimate Guide to Healthy Snacking in Tunisia") linked to clusters like "5 Best Post-Workout Snacks in Tunis."

Google Business Profile (GBP)

Even as an e-commerce brand, register a Tunis/Ariana address to appear in "Map Pack" results for "Healthy food near me.

Bilingual SEO Strategy

Implement a French-English keyword structure to capture multilingual search behavior.

Frictionless Subscription Model

Idea: "Moula Box" subscription.

Objective: Solve Karim’s "defaulting to junk" problem by automating his health.

RACE Stage: CONVERT / ENGAGE

3D Ingredient Scroller

Idea: A high-end motion design element where a 3D-rendered almond or date deconstructs as the user scrolls.

Objective: Visually demonstrate ingredient quality and increase "Time on Page."

RACE Stage: ACT / CONVERT

Backlink Profile

Partner with Tunisian fitness influencers and wellness bloggers for "Earned Media" links.

Objective: To verify the brand's credibility through local "vouching" and physical presence.

RACE Stage: REACH

DIGITAL STRATEGY EXECUTION

SOCIAL MEDIA STRATEGY

INSTAGRAM

"Inside the Cup" — macro photography, cinematic transitions, ingredient storytelling, Tunisian lifestyle integration

FACEBOOK

"Mystery Flavor Poll" — community votes for future flavors (Zgougou, Deglet Nour, Walnuts)

SOCIAL MEDIA STRATEGY

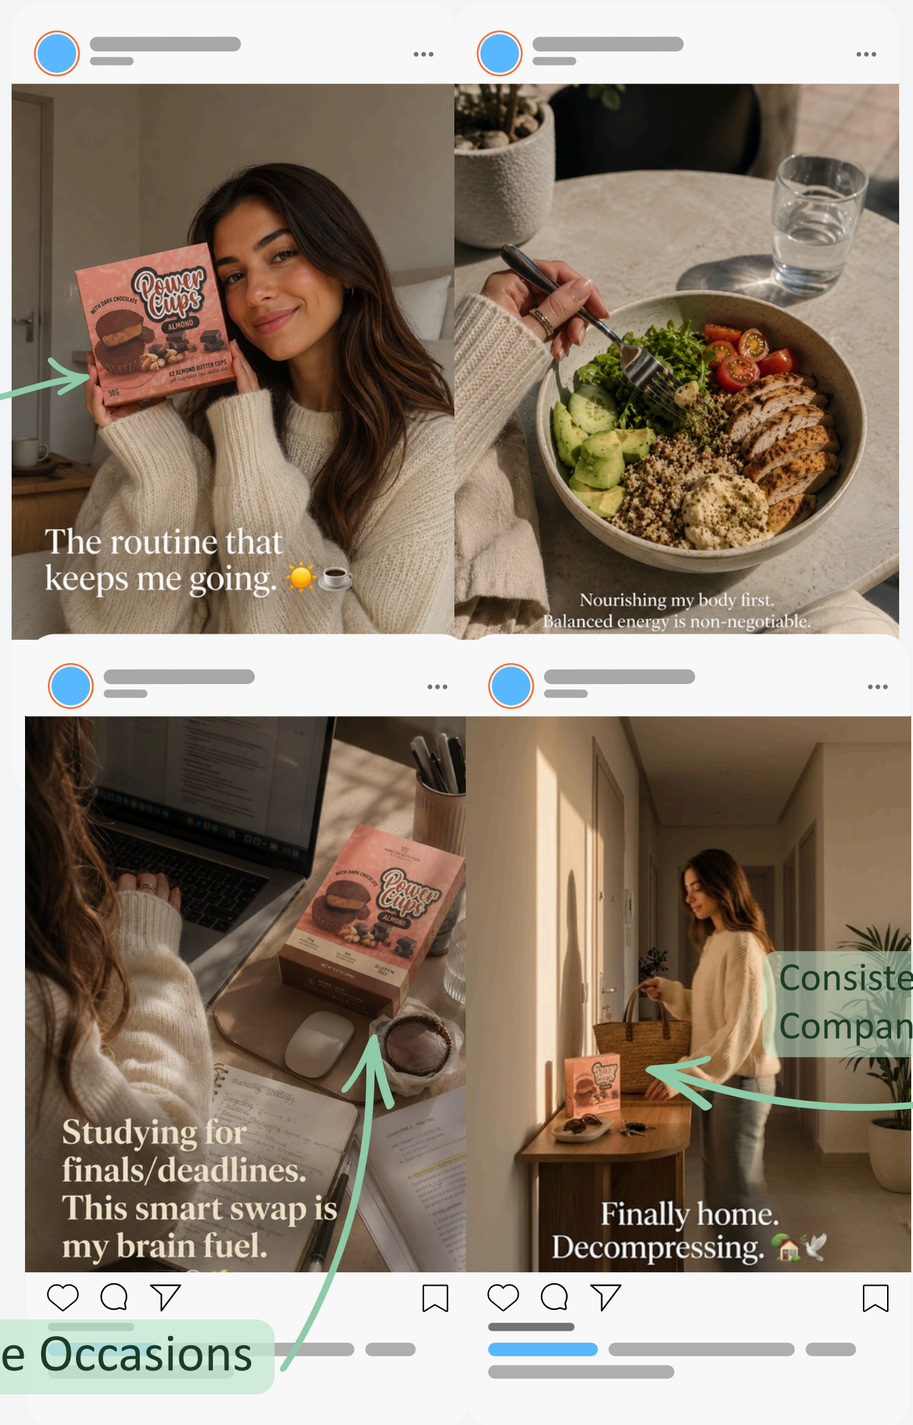

“Day in My Life” Campaign

Target: Students and active consumers.

Objective: Reduce price resistance by reframing the product as an accessible daily upgrade.

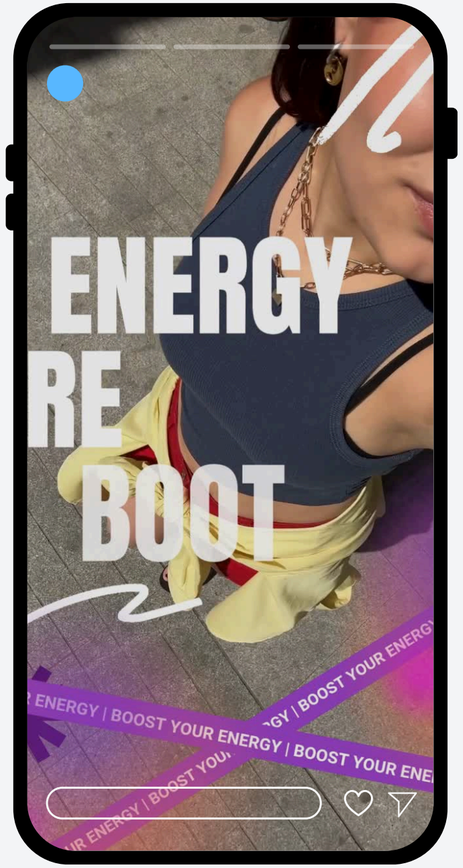

RACE Contribution: CONVERT

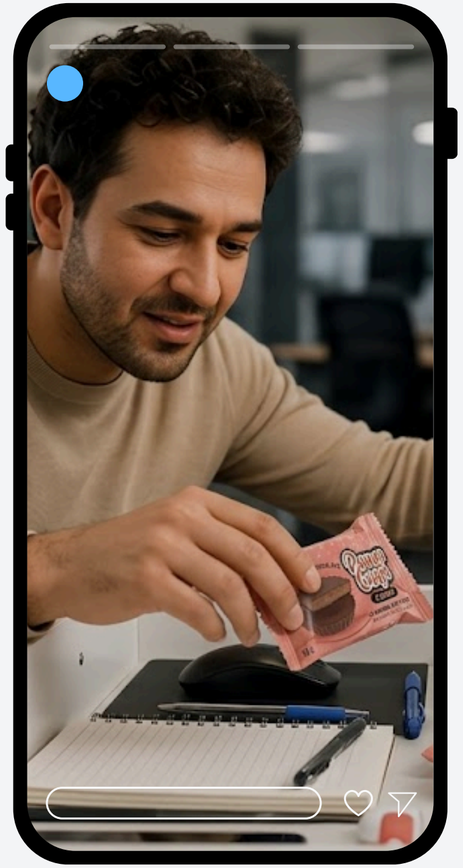

Yasmine shares her experience on social media, tags the brand, and gradually becomes a micro-advocate within her network.

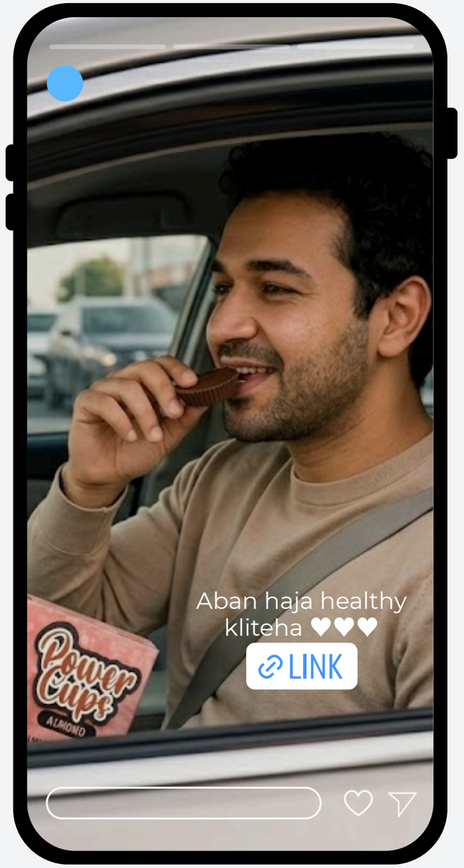

SOCIAL MEDIA STRATEGY

Lifestyle Aesthetic

DIGITAL STRATEGY EXECUTION

ADS STRATEGY

"Desk-Side Hack"

Young professionals · Afternoon energy crash · CTA: 'Upgrade Your Office Snack'

"Inside the Cup"

Students & professionals · Premium macro visuals · CTA: 'Taste the Revolution'

"Day in My Life"

Students & active consumers · Accessible daily upgrade · CTA: 'Start Your Journey for Less'

FINAL STRATEGIC VISION

More Life Nutrition has strong potential to become Tunisia's leading healthy snack brand. The product is visual, culturally relevant, and aligned with wellness trends.

+30% organic traffic · +20% repeat purchases · within 6 months

THE GAP TO CLOSE

- Weak digital structure
- Low brand awareness
- Insufficient engagement

THE ROADMAP

- SEO excellence
